

Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

VOLUME XV.—NUMBER 73.

HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY, TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1893.

TWICE A WEEK AT $2 A YEAR.

A FEAST OF GOOD THINGS IN OUR LOVELY NEW STOCK.

Hardly any use proving the existence of the stars or the light.

Nor is it needful every day to repeat the principles, practices and magnitude of our business.

Coming straight here for what you want is, we believe the shortest road for yourself.

The Fall and Winter supplies now rapidly opening in all departments plainly say to everybody, "no steps backward whatever the times are."

GRAND FALL OPENING,

FRIDAY, SEPT. 29.

Miss it and you miss the first sight of some of the prettiest stuff that ever crossed the ocean. Highest of high art in new Dress Goods and Silks. Wonderful loom wit it is that brings out such color blends—glimming, glancing, changing as the light changes. Then there are lacey dentelle effects, shifting shod on dances and zig zag jumbles that keep you guessing what new beauty is next to unfold. It's a sight to behold and you are cordially invited.

The Louisville Post has changed its name. The Evening Post and on a new head.

Yellow fever has been declared epidemic at Brunswick, Ga. These were 11 new cases Sunday.

Robbins held up another train Friday—this time in Michigan—and got $7,000 from the express company.

The great rush to the West's Fair continues. Saturday's post admission crowded 200,000, being 199,321.

J. T. Smith, a Bowing, Ky., man, was yesterday shot and killed at Orlando, O. T., in the great run last Saturday.

Henry S. Coopers, one of the Republican clerks still nested in the Philadelphia mint, has confirmed that he robust the mint of $10,000 worth of missing gold bullion. "Turn the racals out."

The figure in the Mayoralty contest in Boston finally settled at 1,651 majority for Tyler in a vote of nearly 14,000. The Hay-Alexander couple for the seats, in doubt when our last report was made, was finally settled in favor of Hay by a few votes. There will no contest.

An article reprinted last week from the Frankfort Argus stating that Astachia had been captured and that the arrows would resign if he was not promised to succeed Gen. Grose, did not get through a single justice. Col.
Richardson was immediately condemned, and never uttered such a word again.

The men were clapped for the news it contained, and we regret that Col.
Richardson was put before the public in an impudent light.

There has been a little input in the lynching business, after a week or two of quiet. No. 69, Jess Mitchell, col., was hanged at Amelia C. Va., Sept. 15. This was the second on a two-year's record. A. J. Jackson, a Baptist and Paul Julian charged with taking part in the murder of Judge Estep, were taken from jail at 12:45 Sunday night and hanged. All were colored. These raised the number to this year, to 72, making 6 for September.

There is much to command in "The Book of Choice," the prime magazine by Capt. Alfred C. Ward, in the September issue of "Facts from Town Topics." None but a man of the world, an artist, and a close observer can have so much diversified and pleasant a collection of stories and biographies as those which have been blended into such a thrilling cohesive whole. To many readers the life depicted in the story will appear overdrawn and unreal, but no so to others who have been the frequenters of the cafes and restaurants as they exist in Europe. In the miscellaneous matter that follows the story, the most desperate pessimist or the most unfeeling optimist will find much to his taste. Town Topics, 21 West Twenty-third street, New York.

The Cherokee Strip.

Over 100,000 persons took part in the rush last Saturday to secure homesteads and town lots in the Cherokee Strip. The 8,000,000 acres therein are the best land in the country, considered good farming land, the rest only fit for grazing. The strip is 88 miles wide and 186 miles long and was entered from every side and the whole was open for homesteads by night. The entries were made in all sorts of ways, and there was no orderly system.

HALLEY WALLACE—PURDUM.

Mr. Waller being in Louisville we approached Mr. Evert, who has been in this house the past number of years, and asked him to speak to him. "This is a quiet day, I have no reason to complain of hard times. Business has been better than last year. I expect a good fall this year. What I have seen much dollar times when there was no panic."

M. T. TOWN—MERCHANT TAILOR.

Mr. Town is here from New England, and speaks distinctly of the newspaper. He has had some success, but has not made much money. He has been here about three months, and has had a good fall trade.

J. H. ANDERSON—SHOES & CLOTHING.

"I have been here from New England, and speak distinctly of the newspaper. He has
has been here about three months, and has had a good fall trade."

T. O. YATES—TAN.

"Trade has been all right with me here, but has not increased over last year."

S. H. WALTERS—CLOTHING.

"Our fall stock will be good."
C. M. LATHAM—DRUGGIST.

Mr. Latham is now in New York making his fall stock. Mr. Lucien Davis, who has charge of the books, says they show that for the past year business has been ahead of any previous year. They look for a large trade next fall.

It is a conceded fact that the farmers of Christian county are in better condition financially than for ten years or more.

The merchants are cognizant of the fact, and the farmers must admit it.
While the records in the County Court office prove that more mortgages have been paid off by the farmers in the last twelve months than in any year since 1850.

Mr. Rodman went East only a few days ago after a new stock. Mr.
Daniels says that trade will be good next fall. The past twelve months business has been better than the year before.

W. D. DAVIS—CLOTHING.

"We have been in business about a year. Our business has been good, and we have a good fall trade."

E. S. BROWN—CLOTHING.

"We have been in business about a year. Our business has been good, and we have a good fall trade."
